4-H Fair starts with displays, horseshow

TABLE SETTING

Competition in the bake-off setting created these displays. In the foreground is an American birthday party scene and to the right is a Brazilian setting. At the far end is an authentic Indian setting.

HORSE SHOW

4-H'ers lined up Monday morning for the start of competition in the annual 4-H Western horse show.

LUNCH

There was plenty of opportunity Monday to enjoy a hearty lunch at the Fair's concession stand.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Ott

Meet Vivian Ott, our loan accounting manager

Vivian tells us that her most important hobby is to her two grandchildren and if there can be any comparison between day job and her work at Clinton National Bank you can be sure the youngsters will not be shorted when it comes to attention.

Vivian has been with us since May, 1963 and these years have seen her performing a number of varied duties. Currently she is manager of our loan accounting department - a division which our customers visit, but one which is most important to each of the four-thousand plus active loan accounts.

Vivian is a native of Ironwood, Mich., and graduated from A.D. Johnston High School in Bessemer. She has completed other professional courses which include graduation from Burroughs Calculator School at Chicago and a number of study programs conducted by the American Institute of Banking. She and her husband, Bob, are St. Johns residents and the youngsters who command her attention are children of the Ott's son, Randall.

When Vivian is not overseeing the operations of her department (and when the grandchildren are not accurately pursuing one of her other hobbies which include dancing, reading or solving crossword puzzles) her attentions all have been reflected in her work but has implemented a number of loan accounting techniques which have helped to make our loan operation more efficient, more profitable and, in Vivian's words, "more personable".

CMU launches $1.5 million campaign

MT. PLEASANT — A $1.5 million fundraising effort was announced recently by Central Michigan University, the first public university in the state to launch a comprehensive capital project.

Other campuses in northern lower Michigan have mountaineers for an overall capital drive, but not on the scale of CMU's current $7.9 million plan.

The campaign is called "CMU 79," representing the university's 79-year history.

The 14-month campaign, which began June 11, includes a five-year, $50 million endowment fund; a $3 million athletic stadium; and a $2 million student union.

Other objectives include athletic facilities, the first national recognition for CMU's marketing program, a new commuter building, and a new science building.

The current drive, which has already raised $2 million, will be completed by June 1973.

The campaign is the first for the university, which was founded in 1894 as a teachers college.

Charcoal fires

Wacousta

by Helen Weasly

Extension Home Economist

One definition of happiness is a charcoal fire on a July afternoon. Mrs. Mildred M. Zwicker, Wacousta, says that is her definition, and the proof is there, illuminated by a charcoal fire she had Saturday evening.

"I have been to the Lake Area in the past, and been to beaches, but I have never experienced the beauty of a charcoal fire," Mrs. Zwicker said. "I've seen it on television, but I've never seen it in person until Saturday."

She and her husband, Mike, were at the Wacousta Legion Post 166, where a charcoal fire was burning, and the family enjoyed the warm atmosphere it created.

Mrs. Zwicker said she and her family had been to the Lake Area before, but she said it was the first time they had experienced a charcoal fire. "I'm glad I finally saw one," she said. "It's a beautiful sight to see."

A poll of feelings

For the most part, polls taken in this country today reflect the attitudes and opinions of people, and up with a lot of percentages, statistics and tables. An exception to this anonymity was Youthpoll, conducted by the College Testing Program which gave youths the chance to answer "open-ended" questions in their own words and the answers were gathered in a statistically meaningful way.

The test, conducted with private mail questionnaires, concentrated on 18-year-olds who had just started college. Most of the questions were written in a way that would elicit opinions on the part of the respondents. Some of the conclusions from the poll should be of interest to those of the older generation.

We made them the way they are. Boys and girls don't just sit down and answer."Today I am going to be critical of my parents," or dissatisfied with school or approving of protest. These opinions and feelings were stated by the youths, paralleled from the attitudes and opinions we plan and provide.

Teenagers need to be needed more. They do not have enough. Many of the youths contribute to the family economically. They mature earlier physically. They are more mature in their thinking and they want to think and question. They really do know more about the parents did at the same age. And the adult response of "You stay in your place" (which is what we say when we refuse to listen) just makes matters worse.

Students are finicky about proctors. The great majority approve, but not blindly. They pick and choose. "Just causes, yes; just any cause, no. Nonviolent only, yes; violence, no."

Most of what they want, most adults would like too. The end of all war, cleaner air and water, a safer world. Less superficiality and more meaning in life. Not so much population that behaves, Racial harmony. It's a little hard to argue against such goals.

The students began at home. They have happy home lives. They are needed. Their attitudes are critical of schools or support them. They do not apply to either parent, has no direction from his parents and feels rejected by them. They would like to see a rebellious frustrated attitude to school.

Adults are important to youths. They would not bother to criticize them if we did not feel important to them. If we did not think important, they would ignore it as they feel adults ignore and doing in the in-betweeners (which is little -to-you, youth). Parents are particularly important. We will want to please you. We will be able to please their critical and negative comments about their parents, these parents are more, more and rewarded if they could do something to make their fathers and mothers notice them and the students want to please adults.

Washington Reports

Extending draft loan

WASHINGTON, D.C. - Congress voted in a sudden and unexpected 44-32 action Wednesday afternoon to extend for three months the loan guarantee period on war bonds. The House voted by a margin of 201-186 to override President Nixon's veto of legislation passed by the Senate which would have permitted the Treasury to issue up to $2 billion additional loan guarantees.

The House passed almost identical legislation last week, but the Senate had refused to override President Nixon's veto of the measure. The Senate's action combined the loan extension bill with a bill authorizing $1 billion in emergency aid for the states whose aid was curtailed by the Nixon veto.

In the Senate, the loan extension bill was approved by a vote of 74-26 and was approved by a vote of 61-28 in the House.

The Senate on Wednesday also passed legislation that would allow the Treasury to issue up to $1 billion in emergency aid to the states.

The Senate voted 74-26 on the loan extension bill and 61-28 on the emergency aid bill.

The Senate, in an unusual showing and in the face of the White House's objection, voted early Tuesday to override President Nixon's veto of the loan extension bill.

The Senate's action on Wednesday was the third time this week the Senate has voted to override President Nixon's veto of legislation passed by the House.

The Senate voted to override the veto of the $1 billion in emergency aid bill on Wednesday, the second time this week it has overridden Nixon's veto on legislation passed by the House.

Salute to Servicemen
The Clinton County News wishes to dedicate this special Salute to Servicemen section to those who have fallen in battle in defense of their comrades and our nation's honor.

However varied and divided our nation's citizens' views on the war may be, we stand united in honoring our war dead. We owe them that much.

SP/4 ROBERT J. THELEN

Specialist 4 Robert J. Thelen, 20, of Westphalia, son of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Thelen of Tallman Rd., Fowler, died in action Feb. 21.

Thelen had been stationed at Na Trang and was a member of the Special Forces (Green Berets). He had received his parachute training at Fort Benning, Ga., receiving his jump wings on Oct. 3, 1969.

Receiving his Special Forces training at Fort Bragg, N.C., he was sent to Vietnam on June 29, 1970.

Thelen attended St. Mary Grade School in Westphalia and graduated from Divine Word Seminary High School. He was survived by his parents, three sisters, Mrs. Theresa Farling of Fowler, Mrs. Marlene Hoffman of Fowler, and Michelle at home; seven brothers, George of St. Augustine Seminary, Roy St. Louis, Miss., Donald, Terry, Teddy, and Ricky at home, and his grandfather George Thelen, also of Westphalia.

He was buried at St. Mary Cemetery in Westphalia on Mar. 6.

SGT. RICHARD RANDOLPH

Sgt. Richard Dale Randolph, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Randolph of 6471 S. Dewitt Rd., St. Johns, was killed in action Feb. 1.

He had entered the U.S. Army in November, 1969 and was sent to the Vietnam war zone in Oct., 1970.

Assigned to a reconnaissance section of the Americal division, Randolph was killed while on patrol near Chu Lai when his unit was ambushed and caught in a mortar barrage.

Born on July 15, 1950, he attended St. Johns public schools, graduating in 1968 from Rodney B. Wilson High School, St. John, participated in high school sports, was a member of a state championship 4-H Softball team and the Non-Commissioned Officers School softball champions at Fort Benning, Georgia.

He was a former employee of Pageant Homes and Motor Wheel Corporation in Lansing.

He was survived by his parents, four brothers, Donald Jr., Robert, David and Kenneth, and one sister, all at home.

He was buried at St. Most Cemetery Feb. 12.
Thanks, Men...

FOR YOUR SERVICE TO OUR COUNTRY. WE APPRECIATE THE SACRIFICES YOU’VE MADE TO PROTECT OUR NATION, AND THE CONTINUING GOOD WORK YOU’RE DOING TOWARD KEEPING THE WORLD FREE FROM TYRANNY.

WE SALUTE YOU.
