Tri-County airport plan is proposed

The proposed creation of a Tri-County airport authority to take over operation and manage an airport on land now owned by the state was discussed at a meeting of members of three counties Monday night.

The Tri-County Authority would be made up of representatives from Clinton, Eaton and Ionia counties. The meetings were held in the Ionia County courthouse conference room.

The airport would be located on land near the Ionia Industrial Park and would have a runway capable of handling major commercial planes. The airport would function as a transport hub for local airports which do not have runways capable of handling commercial planes.

Plea for sidewalks issued

The hazards of school children entering and exiting schools are an ongoing issue in St. Johns. Parents and students have repeatedly pointed out the large amounts of accumulated dirt along curbs.

The city officials were advised by city officials to move quickly to clean the sidewalks and improve safety conditions.

A steering committee of the community and city officials has been set up to discuss methods of improving the sidewalks.

Citizens of Ovid have presented a proposal to the council for the installation of sidewalks along Main Street.

The request sprung from a concern expressed by citizens about the safety of children walking to and from school.

The proposal includes the installation of sidewalks along Main Street and the use of crossing guards at school crossings.

The council has yet to take any action on the proposal, and residents are concerned over the slow response.

Maurice Grost, city manager of St. Johns, has pointed out the estimated expense of installing sidewalks in the area.

The council is expected to discuss the proposal at its next meeting.

In addition to the proposed installation of sidewalks, the council is also considering the installation of traffic signals at school crossings and the use of crossing guards.

The council has yet to take any action on these proposals, and residents are concerned over the slow response.
Kurt's Appliance plans for grand opening

The interior of the television-sales room at Kurt's Appliance Center is reflective of the decorative motif throughout the new store. Open beams and paneled walls suggest comfortable atmosphere with fine acoustics for stereo listening.

Kurt Becker, Kurt Becker and Dan Snyder, Kurt's Appliance Center managers, have spent several months planning for the opening of the new store. They believe the store's location will bring in a large number of customers who are looking for bargains in appliances.

Customer premium generates volume

"Playing the game" is an un­commonly used word, but of num­ber of people in recent years, the term is to be found in books, articles, and talks. It means a strategy to attract the customer. Have you ever noticed that Mr. Consumer now makes a move to stay in the area of objectives offered through various marketing promotions, knowing the customer will come back if he enjoys the experience offered? A recent check in the St. John's district showed a number of opportunities to appeal to multiple customers, however, our suppliers could sense the interest.

Wood, council commend city on tax response

The St. John City Council on Monday praised the city for responding to the city's request for tax payments.

Alphonso, in his city council report, said that the city received approximately $85 of the $90 requested. He expected the increased tax burden to be accepted.

On Tuesday, the city council met to discuss the tax response. Alphonso urged the city to adopt a budget for the coming year.

Another interesting item, the "value of the day," was featured on the council meeting agenda. A council member asked for the "value of the day" for the upcoming week.

Some people were pleased, but others were dissatisfied with the "value of the day." A council member asked for the "value of the day" for the local businesses.

The "value of the day" is a way for people to support local businesses and it's a good thing I can't remember what it was called.

Tornado:

‘There was a loud roar and all the doors flew open’

By DON KAILK

Several tornadoes swept across the state of Michigan in the spring of 1965, including one that struck the Tecumseh, Michigan, area. In the early morning hours of Palm Sunday, April 19, a tornado touched down in the city, causing significant damage.

According to local residents, the tornado was accompanied by a loud roar and all the doors flew open. The local weather service issued a tornado warning but was unable to predict the exact time and location of the storm.

In the aftermath, residents were left to deal with the aftermath of the storm, which caused extensive damage to homes and property. The local newspaper, The Clinton County News, reported on the event, providing updates and information for the community.

Clintons heart ailments above State average

The percentage of deaths caused by heart disease, stroke and other cardiovascular diseases in Clinton County has been well over statewide levels during the past five years, says Dr. Robert M. Green, president of the Clinton County Medical Society.

In contrast, the state's crude death rate for the same period was 45.4 in 1963, 45.8 in 1964, 45.7 in 1965, 45.8 in 1966, 45.8 in 1967, 45.9 in 1968. These figures indicate that the Clinton County Medical Society is indeed facing a significant challenge in dealing with the cardiovascular health issues in the county.

However, the Clinton County Medical Society is not alone in its efforts to address the problem. The state and federal governments, as well as local health organizations, are also working to combat heart disease.

The Clinton County Medical Society is committed to raising awareness and providing resources to help people prevent and manage cardiovascular diseases. They are working closely with the state and federal government agencies, as well as with other health organizations, to ensure that everyone in the community has access to the resources they need to maintain their health.

Here's how you can help:

1. Get to know your risk factors. Understanding your personal risk factors for heart disease can help you take steps to reduce your risk.
2. Manage your risk factors. If you have high blood pressure, high cholesterol, or diabetes, you can take steps to manage these conditions to reduce your risk of heart disease.
3. Stay active. Regular exercise can help improve your heart health.
4. Eat a healthy diet. A diet that is low in saturated and trans fats, and high in fruits, vegetables, and whole grains, can help reduce your risk of heart disease.

With the support of the Clinton County Medical Society and other organizations, we can work together to reduce the burden of heart disease in Clinton County and beyond.
Planning needed in drying grain

Even though most practical farmers understand the importance of proper drying of their grain, many still depend on systems of drying that were developed many years ago. A few farmers, however, have been making improvements in their equipment and methods. In some areas, farmer cooperatives are also being used to provide better service.

Because of the high cost of production and the many factors that influence the efficiency of drying systems, it is important to select the most suitable system for each situation. The most common methods of drying are the natural air or dry kilns. In the natural air method, the air passes through the grain and removes the moisture. This method is simple and relatively inexpensive, but it is slow and may not be suitable for all types of grain.

In the dry kiln method, the air is circulated through the grain and removed at higher temperatures. This method is more expensive but allows for faster drying and a more uniform moisture content throughout the grain. It is important to select the most suitable method for each situation, considering factors such as the type of grain, the amount to be dried, and the desired moisture content.

It is common for farmers to choose the method that is most convenient and economical for their situation. However, it is important to consider the long-term effects of improper drying on the quality of the grain. Overdrying can reduce the nutritional value of the grain and increase the risk of spoilage. Underdrying can also reduce the quality of the grain.

New methods fade ‘old red barn’ image

For forty years there was nothing like the old “red barn” to represent the American farm. But like the man of horses tilling the soil, the men who built the red barns have changed. In the 1960’s, the ‘red barn’ was being replaced by a more efficient, modern agricultural building. This new building, the ‘white farm’, offers many advantages over its predecessor.

But the old “red barn” image is not completely gone. Many people still associate the “red barn” with a time when families worked together to produce crops and raise livestock. This image has been reinforced by the many historical museums that display old “red barns” as part of their exhibits.

Soybean growers in Michigan have been planting soybeans for many years. The yield of soybeans has doubled in the past 10 years. The average yield is 2.5 bushels per acre, with a high of 3.5 bushels per acre.

The 4-H Club Chatter

By JOHN AYMOUT

The 4-H Leaders Club meeting was held recently at the farm northeast of North Branch. Each member brought a red and white barn image to the meeting. The barns were used to illustrate the various methods of farming that are available today.

The 4-H Leaders Club is an excellent way for young people to learn about the different aspects of farming. The meetings are held monthly, and are open to all 4-H members. The next meeting will be held on the first Wednesday of each month at 7:00 pm.

Soybean yield doubles

The annual income from soybeans has doubled in the past 10 years. The average yield is 2.5 bushels per acre, with a high of 3.5 bushels per acre.

The growth of soybeans is not limited to a single state. Soybeans are grown in all 50 states, with the highest yields in the southern United States.

The soybean industry has seen significant growth over the past few decades. The number of soybean acres has increased from 3 million acres in 1990 to 20 million acres in 2020.

The increase in the soybean acreage has been driven by several factors. One of the main factors is the increased demand for soybean oil and meal. Soybean oil is used in the production of biodiesel and other biofuels. Soybean meal is a high-quality animal feed.

The soybean industry has also benefited from advances in genetics. Soybean breeders have developed soybean varieties that are resistant to disease and pests. These varieties have helped to increase the soybean yield.

The soybean industry has also benefited from the development of new farming techniques. The use of precision agriculture techniques, such as precision seeding and precision spraying, has allowed farmers to increase the soybean yield.

The soybean industry has also benefited from the development of new markets. The use of soybean products in the food industry, such as soybean milk and soybean-based cheeses, has increased the demand for soybeans.

The soybean industry has also benefited from the development of new technologies. The use of drones and satellite imaging has allowed farmers to monitor the soybean crop and make decisions about the need for irrigation and fertilization.

The soybean industry has also benefited from the development of new policies. The United States government has provided support for the soybean industry, such as the Soybean Promotion and Research Initiative.
St. Johns Redwings have title to defend.

Last year the West Central Conference champs were undefeated in seven conference games and 8-1 for the season. The single setback, 14-7, was administered by Mason who plays the Redwings in the season opener Friday.

Reporting for practice Aug. 25 were 18 returning letter men who were among more than 50 hopefuls seeking berths on the team.

Lettermen returning to St. Johns include Rich Stoddard, Bob Knight, Tim Durner, Scott Bennett, Jeff Silm, Greg Kirby, Terry Martin, Mike Pettigrew, Larry Zuker, Roger Davis, Russ Hicks, Dave Gaffney, Brian Ballinger, Dan Rademacher, Ron Waggouer, Dick Rademacher, Charlie Green and Bob Smith.

"Their attitude has been great," says head Coach Jeff Smith. "The weather's been hot but they've been working hard.

"Most reported in good shape—much better than a year ago," he adds.

Aiding Smith is a new addition to the coaching staff, Phil Desper, who is in charge of the offensive and defensive lines.

Following the Mason game, the Redwings entertain Lakewood before meeting Ionia Sept. 19 in the first away game.

Then it's a game at Hastings Oct. 10 followed by Grand Ledge at home Oct. 17 before taking to the road two successive Fridays at Alma and Charlotte. St. Johns wraps up the season at home against Ovid-Elsie Nov. 7.

All home games begin at 8 p.m.

Coach Bill Marks is rebuilding his championship team this season after losing 15 lettermen this spring. But with 17 returnees to the Pirates lineup, he warns, "Don't count us out."

Lettermen will return to tackle and backfield positions, but the team lacks an offensive quarterback and interior linemen. "We lost some good players, but the team can still look forward to a respectable season," Marks says. A few injuries have hampered the team's progress.

The first game will find the Pirates at home against Carson City, a non-conference game on Sept. 12. The first conference duel will be the following week again at home, against Laingsburg High School—game played for the Dads who will be honored guests.

Another special game will be the season opener Oct. 12 when the Pirates meet the Potterville gridders. The final game of the season and the only other non-conference game of the season will be played Nov. 1 at Owosso St. Paul.

Marks, backed up his assistant, Harry Peacock will again try for the conference championship. Last year's record 7-1 and conference record 6-1 challenges the team.

20 men return at DeWitt

The team is a member of the Central Michigan Athletic Conference and was tied for third place last year. Conference record was 5-4 and overall record was 5-4.

The team will kick off the season at the Bath High School when the Panthers meet the Flintsing Bees meet Sept. 12.

P-W cheerleaders earn colors, expand squad

Although summer may be the slow season for most high school cheerleaders, the gals at Pe­wamo - Westphalia have been putting the time to good use. They've expanded their num­ber from six to nine and have been raising funds for new uni­forms.

Part of the expansion is due to the addition of a wrestling team at P-W so the grunters will now be encouraged by three pretty co-eds leading cheers.

The gals, captained by Col­leen Schafer, are sponsoring a kick off dance Friday evening at the high school gymnasium to bolster their fund-raising ef­forts.

When they weren't practicing - which was every Sunday sum­mer morning beginning at 7:15 - they were planning lake sides and a mixer in July to pay for the new uniforms.

The navy wool culottes are accented with gold inset pleats and the matching navy sweaters feature a gold stripe. The girls are also purchasing blue and gold pom poms.

Although unable to attend a na­tional cheerleader's camp this summer because of the expense of their new uniforms, the squad plans to attend a cheer­leading clinic at Central Mich­igan University Sept. 13.

Members of the squad include Cindy Trierweiler, Rosanne Stump, Nancy Bengel, Gail Cot­ter, Dorthea Beachnau, Ann Mil­ler, Mary Davarn and Ann Fedewa.

Mary Kraft nets top US cheer leading honor

Mary Kraft has always been tops to her grandmother, and now she is No. 1 in the nation.

Mary, granddaughter of Mrs. Russell Kraft of St. Johns, was awarded top individual honors at a national cheerleading camp recently. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kraft of Flint.

Mrs. Kraft, widow of the late Dr. Kraft, came into the office last week and with understandable grandmotherly pride, said she had just been informed of Mary’s good fortune.

Mary, a senior at St. John Vianney High School in Flint, is the captain of the cheerleading team. Last year, she was named the best individual cheerleader at the camp, Waldenwoods near Hartland, and this year received the recognition nationally.

The girls also attended camps in Wisconsin and New York. Top winners from all camps meet to compete for the national honors.

The team has won several trophies for the spirit-raising skill. In 1967 it was named top group from the camp, placed second in 1963 and 1964 and this year won the national championship of the U.S. Cheerleaders Association.

Mary explained that selection of the champions is based on “how well you get along” with the other girls at the camp sessions, “if you’re really leaders,” and of course, cheerleading skill.

Another member of the team, Sue Moody, was named the prettiest cheerleader.

Fowler must avoid injuries

*"We can't move as fast as the other teams, but I think we can top them, physically, at least I hope so," says Coach Blaine Douglas of his Fowler varsity team.

*"We only issued 10 varsity uniforms and have 14 returning lettermen, so if we stay clear of injuries, we should come up with quite a respectable season," he says. Last season's top running back, Steve Feldpausch is back and "could really be a real help," says Douglas. According to the coach, the team lacks the depth of other teams, but the returning lettermen have much experience and can be a great asset. A few injuries set the team back at the start of practice, but the injured players should be ready to go for the start of the season.

Fighting for the blue and white of Fowler High School, the 1969 varsity football team will commence action on Sept. 12. The first game will be played at the Fulton High School at 8 p.m., the same time as all other Fowler games.

Other important games on the season schedule include Oct. 9 when the Eagles battle with the Pewamo-Westphalia High School which is homecoming. The night the Eagles meet the Pewamo-Westphalia High School Oct. 17, is parents' night. Both games will be played at home. Douglas, head coach, is assisted in directing team action by Gary Schmitt, Principal of the school and Deane Stark. In charge of all athletic activities, is the athletic director, Charles Trenwer.

Last year the Eagles, members of the Central Michigan Athletic Conference, placed fourth in the conference. The conference record was 2-5. Overall season record was 3-5-1. Returning to DeLand's Hill for the fourth year, is the Fowler varsity, led by Captain Tom Figgott, season returning varsity players, including Steve Feldpausch, Ken Schmitt, Cliff Thelen, Gary Pung, and Roger Nobach. The junior varsity will play most of their games on Thursdays, and hopes to finish closer to the top this season. Assistant coach, Robert Miller says "We'll take first this year."

The All-Staters, Doug First and Bob Gray will be paired by Keith Leslie, Gary Betz, Doug Cooper, Darrell Taylor, Scott Richards and Alan Zamarron who will return this fall with letters to fight for the blue and gold.

Last year ended with a 1-6-1 record for the season and a 1-5-1 conference record. The team tied for sixth in the Tri-Central Conference.

Head coach, Rodney Miller says the boys are "ready to hit" and hopes to finish closer to the first this season. Assistant coach, Robert Miller says "We'll take first this year."

Bath joins new conference

Bath, termed by its coach as a "young and inexperienced team" will face a "new and stronger league" when it joins the Ingham County League.

Last year, the Fighting Bees finished eighth in the Central Michigan Athletic Conference with no wins against eight defeats.

"We're going into this pretty weak," says Coach Ron Skorich.

"Other teams that have been in the league before know what they are up against and will do better than we can, never having played these teams before."

Lettermen are returning to each of the offensive backfield positions which Skorich looks to be the team's strength.

"If we win the first couple of games, the team will be enthused and have a foothold on the league and a little more experience. We can have a good season, but we're not contenders."

The Fighting Bees of Bath High School open their football season Sept. 12 with a home game against DeWitt High School.

The team has 11 returning lettermen. They are: Tom Cooley, Rudy Swart, Don Koenig, Larry Feguer, Capt. Dick King, Tom Cooley (back) Don Adams, Rusty Swart, Don Koenig, Mark Kunkel, absent is Dan Baker.

Juniors dominate O-E team

Although the Ovid-Elsie team is predominately juniors, coach Mark O'Donnell thinks that "a quick and alert team" can look for a fair season.

"I sincerely feel we will make our share of mistakes. The team lacks experience. But we will gain know-how as the season progresses," O'Donnell said.

"We have to rely on speed. We're not about to overpower anybody."

The team finished fourth in the conference last year with a record of 2-3 while winning four and losing three over all. The team is a member of the Mid-Michigan B conference.

O'Donnell, also athletic director, is aided by Supt. Robert Pope coaches the junior varsity and is assisted by Blaine Stauch and principal, Blaine Leutz.

Watershed project reviewed

The Michigan Bay Conservation and Development Commission's annual report for 1968 was submitted to the Michigan Department of Agriculture in early August. The report includes a detailed review of the state's watershed programs and recommendations for future action.

Better alfalfa goal of tests

More than 150 Michigan farmers have been participating in a state University Cooperative Extension Service alfalfa testing program. The goal is to find the most productive and disease-resistant varieties of alfalfa for Michigan conditions.

Cherry market definitely

We agree there’s a market for cherries at harvest time. The demand exceeded expectations this year, and prices were higher than expected. This is good news for Michigan farmers who produce cherries.

2 new wheat types readied

Two new wheat types, Yorkstar and Yorkstar II, were developed by the Michigan State University Agricultural Experiment Station. They are designed to grow in the state's cooler climate and are expected to be more resistant to disease.

Income tax illegal?

Anyone who has been around for a few years may recall Miss Vivian Kellom, the Connecticut industrialist, who for years has carried on a long battle against inequities of the national income tax. By and large, it has been a losing battle. But un­deterred at 72 years of age she is again standing up for her convictions and her rights. She is fighting for the return of more than $72,000 which she feels she is due as a result of taxes collected illegally from her because she has no husband.

Says Miss Kellom, "There is no law that says single people must pay a higher rate than married people. Congress never has, and does not dare pass such law, even though the Supreme Court would have to declare it unconstitutional. If you can tax me because I am single, you can tax me because my eyes are gray, my hair is white, or I am 72 years old. I have no more control over my conditions that I have over my marital status. How many eligible single men, age 72, or thereabouts, do you know?"

Heaven save us, Dr Dwight L. Wilbur, has pointed out how millions of dollars of allegedly un­payable taxes are being poured into the Treasury. The dollars were spent by the Treasury and are not available to help balance the budget. We shall search them out and expose them, for the good of the entire medical-care field."

A matter of honesty

Stories of late have told of widespread abuses of power and privilege in national and state programs in certain states. Reporters describe how millions of dollars of allegedly unjustifi­cable taxes are being poured into the Treasury. The dollars were spent by the Treasury and are not available to help balance the budget. We shall search them out and expose them, for the good of the entire medical-care field."

American Medical Association pres­i­dent, Dr Dwight L. Wilbur, has pointed out how millions of dollars of allegedly un­payable taxes are being poured into the Treasury. The dollars were spent by the Treasury and are not available to help balance the budget. We shall search them out and expose them, for the good of the entire medical-care field."

The medical profession is as concerned with the financial abuses of medical care and medicare as it is with cor­rupting other programs encompassing massive ex­pansion of government in the medical-care field."

The present Dr Wilbur is most sincere in his remarks and if the operating effectiveness of the AMA is to be measured at all in the future, it will be at least in part in response to the many charges made by him. We therefore feel that the medical profession should take a more active role in the struggle against the more widespread abuses of power and privilege in national and state programs in certain states.

MICHIGAN MIRROR
Abortion gains

BY ELMER E. WHITE

MARKED as a victory in the battle for abortion reform, the act that legalized abortion in Michigan was introduced in 1970. The bill was passed by the State Senate in 1971, and became law on July 1, 1972.

The supporters of legalized abortion were initially met with resistance, but over time, public opinion shifted in favor of reproductive rights. The legalisation of abortion in Michigan was a significant step towards recognizing the rights of women to control their own bodies.

The battle for abortion reform in Michigan was not easy. There were vocal opponents who argued that abortion was morally wrong and that women should be able to carry their pregnancies to term. However, the tide began to turn as more women spoke out in favor of their reproductive choices.

The legalisation of abortion in Michigan was a milestone in the broader women's rights movement, and it paved the way for similar legislation in other states. Today, abortion is legal in all 50 states, and the right to choose remains a fundamental human right.

Sincerely,
MISS MARY BLACK
