Bits and Pieces

Pride and Honor

The week of October 8 thru 14 is quite unique to us folks in the newspaper business, and is made available for the public to acknowledge as "NEWSPAPER WEEK". So if you don't mind, I'll blow our own horn a little this week.

A newspaper means many different things to many different people. To one person it may be the 'voice' of a group of people who are getting married or who's engaged. For others it is a source of finding out who died while for many it's a place to read about current matters in city and county government.

And for many others it's a source of wholesome reading material. In most instances personal planning has to be taken into consideration. And for many others it's a source of wholesome reading material.

Holt humbles Redwings

ST JOHNS - Last Friday night, the Redwings field was as flat as a good ball team game. It was the perfect stage for a game they were looking for. The second half proved to be just that. The Redwings defense stymied the Bulldogs, the offense scored two touchdowns and Holt rolled to their right into the locker room.

The first half was a struggle for both teams. Holt scored their second touchdown early in the second quarter, but stuggled to hold the lead. St. Johns held them to a 20-19 score after a St. Johns fumble.

Third quarter proved to be a turn around for the Redwings. Holt went into the locker room with a 3-7 series; D Burk, converted; M Musolf, 4-5-7; and then scored the left side for the two points after. The second half proved to be just that. The Redwings defense held Holt to a 14-14 tie with Holt 4, St. Johns-5; first downs - Holt 13, St. Johns 5; passing - 7/2-.

Dan Beck's called Clinton County's Johnny Appleseed

By LEE PETERS
News/Press Writer

ST JOHNS -- The doesn't wear an iron skillet on his head or carry a burlap bag over his shoulder, but Dan Beck can bring home a bountiful harvest of Clinton County's Johnny Appleseed. As a lad, he planted the apple plant and has watched it grow. He's decided he doesn't want to cut the tree down, but he is growing more of the same kind because he knows what it would be like to have his crop wiped out by a pest or disease.

In the study of the tree he's learned all about its natural history. Now he's having a great deal of success growing the same kind of tree.

None of the apple tree's roots are growing on 5 acres. He's grown it to a variety of dwarf trees growing on 5 acres. The Sandhill Township fruit grower has continued to plant apple trees since he was a boy.

He says this variety must be able to grow in his area. He's not going to let it be destroyed. He's going to plant it in his area. He's going to plant it in his area. He's going to plant it in his area.

The second type is the smoothie strain of Golden Delicious grown off a Mailing Merton root stock. No. 106. It's the smoothie strain of Golden Delicious grown off a Mailing Merton root stock. No. 106.

He has devoted much energy and many hours to the UF, as well as other community benefit. His continuing interest and work on a large number of civic projects and for this spirit of concern and cooperation we are pleased to name Lou Merignac as our citizen of the year.

Sen McGovern needs clarification

Sen George McGovern now is reported to be considering a 1972 gubernatorial race.

Some months back, McGovern backed a proposal for an amendment that would make it harder for the general rank and file to oust unelected, general managers and union leaders. He said he backed the amendment to "clarify" his views on amnesty and other disputed issues.

That is if McGovern can really decide where he does stand.

An ounce of prevention

By Jere L. Urban, MD
Director of Preventive Health Services, Eaton and Ingham counties

Don’t you know that heart disease is the number one killer of men between 35 and 65 in the United States? And do you know that one in five men in Michigan will die of heart disease before he reaches age 65? A recent study by the American Heart Association shows that one in three men from 25 to 40 in the United States will die from heart disease in the future.

The Ounce of Prevention movement has been called "premature coronary." Because they are unable to get proper medical care, young men die of coronary attacks predominantly rural to an early age.

One of the best known cases is that of Thomas E. Slagh, 34-year-old laborer from St. Johns who died of a heart attack a year ago. Heart Association states that this brings the number of cases of heart disease among younger men had actually died of the disease has gone up 14 per cent.

For men between 25 and 40, the disease is called "premature coronary." When stricken, their cases, public health officials tell us, are the best called "premature coronary." 1973 Dodgers offer much quieter ride

Carland News

Our engineers gave extra design attention to make the 1973 Dodge a quiet vehicle. They worked hard to improve the noise levels inside the car, especially during highway driving. By using innovative materials and soundproofing techniques, they were able to reduce engine and road noise significantly. The result is a more comfortable driving experience for the passengers.

They added a number of improvements to the pickup's design. The front end was restyled to give it a more contemporary look, while the rear end was updated with new taillights and a fresh design. The bed was also modified to make it more versatile for carrying different loads. Overall, the changes enhance the vehicle's aesthetics and functionality.

ST JOHNS — Tom is 16. He walked downtown last week because he didn't have anything else to do. His teenage friends were sitting on curbs and in business doorways as Tom joined them. He was still walking the streets when a police officer approached him at 8:00 the following morning.

This problem is one many small towns across the country are facing. And now it's an every night scene on the middle block of St Johns' business district.

The Clinton Avenue hangout has been a popular spot for local youth for the past 3 years. With an increasing drug problem more complaints are being made, St Johns teens have nowhere to go. Businessmen don't want gang loitering in front of their stores and citizens don't like the general appearance. So the problem's been dropped in the laps of the St Johns Police Department.

"WE'RE RIGHT IN the middle," admits Sgt. French, a 16-year SFPD veteran. "The kids think we're harvesting them and merchants and citizens don't think we're doing enough," he replied when confronted with the question.

"Most of the complaints come at night," he continued. "We've been trying to educate other people properly. Often they are not sure where to start and they do not understand what to do if a "break in" occurs. So far everything is working out with little problems."

When confronted with the question, "How are things going?" the police officer replied, "Well, it's been very good so far. We've been able to catch a few kids in the area, but we've also been able to catch a few others who aren't part of this group."

In fact, the police officer says that they have been able to catch a few kids in the area who have been involved in vandalism and the like. However, he stresses, "We're not trying to make a career out of this. We're just trying to get the message across that we're here to help and that we're willing to work with the community to solve the problem."

"We're aware of the problem," the police officer continued. "But we're also aware that we can't solve it overnight. We're working with the community to come up with a plan that will work for everyone."

"We're also working with the schools to make sure that they understand the problem and that they're willing to help," the police officer added. "We're working with the parents to make sure that they understand the problem and that they're willing to help."
